MIDDLEBURY DEFEATS UNION 6 TO 0.

Union College Meets With First Defeat in Two Years at Hands of Middlebury.

The 6-0 victory of Middlebury over Union registered the first defeat met with by Union in two years and was the second time she had been scored upon in that time. The only score of the game came towards the end of the first quarter, after Middlebury had rushed the ball steadily down the field, Randall carrying the ball across the line for the touchdown.

The game opened with Capt. Rosecrans of Union kicking off to Lynch on Middlebury's 40-yard line, Lynch being tackled in his tracks. Middlebury then made first down on a forward pass and a two yard gain by Pollard. Parker gained three yards through center and Union was penalized five yards for being off side, giving Middlebury another first down. Pollard gained four yards but Parker was thrown for a loss of five yards on the next play. Randall made five yards through center and Pollard two more. Parker then got away for a twenty-five yard run giving Middlebury her third successive first down. Whitney and Randall went through center for three and four yards respectively and Pollard added two more. Middlebury then failed to gain and Union sent in Goff in place of Foster. Pollard and Randall each made five yards and again it was Middlebury's ball for first down.

Union stiffened and made a game fight to protect her goal line. Middlebury then fumbled but regained the ball. Whitney failed to gain, but Randall made one yard. On the next play Randall went across the line for a touchdown. Capt. Lang failed to kick the goal. Middlebury kicked to Union's 20-yard line, Mudge running it back ten yards. Moynihan gained four yards and Mudge made a gain, but Union was was penalized five yards for being off side. Hay and Moynihan each gained four yards and the quarter ended with the ball in Union's possession.

In the second quarter Union failed to gain and Rosecrans kicked to Pollard, who carried the ball back five yards. Randall made a gain and Whitney came through with five yards, making first down for Middlebury. Parker then made four yards and Pollard one, but Middlebury was penalized fifteen yards for holding. Parker failed to gain and a forward pass to Lynch netted two yards. Pollard then punted thirty yards to Mudge, who ran the ball back twelve yards. During the remainder of the quarter Union fought hard to tie the score, the ball being in Middlebury's territory most of the time. Mudge made a fine run of twenty yards and Moynihan seven more. Middlebury was then off side, giving Union first down. Moynihan and Roff each gained four yards and Mudge two yards, making it Union's ball for another first down. Time was taken out for Roof who was injured.

WHITNEY—THOMAS.

A Wedding of Unusual Interest is Celebrated in the Mead Chapel—President's Daughter Marries Middlebury Graduate.

The first wedding in the new Mead Memorial Chapel was celebrated Tuesday, October 3, the bride being Marion Sarah, oldest daughter of President and Mrs. John M. Thomas. The groom was Roy T. Whitney of Shrewsbury, a chemist in the employ of the Vermont Marble Company. The ceremony was performed by President Thomas, and the double ring service was used. The bride's mother gave her in marriage.

Promptly at four o'clock the bridal party came down the center aisle of the chapel to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march which was rendered on the organ by Prof. Lewis J. Hathaway of the music department. The ushers who were John Poore of Rutland, Hugh T. Whitney of Rutland, Henry Chapman of Anvik, Alaska, and Lockwood Seeley of Newark, N. J., preceded, and were followed by the bridesmaids. Miss Daisy Whitney, a sister of the groom and Miss Ada Chapman, a cousin of the bride. The maid of honor was Miss Huldah M. Thomas, sister of the bride and following her came the bride on the arm of her father. They were met in the chancel by the groom and the best man who was Henry S. Thomas, brother of the bride. During the ceremony Schubert's Serenade was rendered by Prof. Hathaway.

The bride was gowned in white net with trimmings of embroidered net and satin and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and gypsophila. The gown of the maid of honor was of flowered white silk in the style of the early sixties and her bouquet was of pink carnations. The bridesmaids' dresses were of white net with pink and blue trimmings and they carried arm bouquets of pink cosmos.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of President and Mrs. Thomas. The parlors were beautifully decorated with blue field asters and the dining room with pink cosmos. Mrs. Edwin S. Kirtland, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Philip Mellen presided in the dining room and were assisted by the Misses Sarah Kirtland of Orleans, Neb., Edith Darrow of Ithaca, N. Y., Ethel Bartlett of Burlington, N. H., and Carrie Buttolph and Ruth Bryant of Middlebury.

The guests were the relatives, members of the faculty and the members of Alpha Chi sorority of which Miss Thomas is a member.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Whitney are graduates of this college in the class of 1915 and while in college took prominent part in various college activities. They will make their home in Rutland.

Celebrates Union Victory.

A telegram from Mr. King early Saturday evening announced the victory over Union and in a short time the Old Chapel bell was ringing out the glad news. Later in the evening when the score was flashed on the movie screen in the town hall the students gave a splendid exhibition of cheering. Nearly every man in college was at the Old Chapel at nine o'clock and marched down the hill to Pres. Thomas' house. After a rousing cheer for "Prexie", he appeared and gave a short talk praising the team and the fellows for the spirit they showed. The procession headed by the college band marched down to the station to greet the victorious team. After a long wait the team finally arrived and great was the enthusiasm at their appearance. With consistent work and the sincere support of the student body this would truly seem to be the year for Midd to "get U. V. M."

Watch Your Step!

Middlebury College stands for sincereity—sincerity of purpose, and sincerity in conduct. The wisest have to constantly be on their guard lest they fall into error; but after all it is not so much the falling into error that counts as the effort made to rectify a mistake which has, perhaps been thoughtlessly committed.

The same rules which apply to the individual are equally applicable to a group; and inasmuch as the latter is more representative, it is all the more important that careful jndgment and wise discretion be exercised in all matters which, in their very nature, involve a fundamental principle. Where that group is in a position to exercise a strong leadership in a still larger unit, any error on its part is still more unfortunate.

In the opening exercises of the college President Thomas outlined a system of college ethics which is fundamentally sound, and indeed essential to a truly successful and normal growth. We believe that the majority of the students of Middlebury have given their full assent to the principles which President Thomas emphasized We deeply regret that any portion of our student body should thoughtlessly run counter to these principles. However, mistakes are frequently made, and there is usually an opportunity for rectification. In the highest interests of Middlebury and for the honor of the student body we hope that the proper means will be speedily taken to retract whatever steps have been taken in the wrong direction.

Middlebury Song Book?

What has become of the Middlebury Song Book? Every fall we hear this question asked and now we would like to know what has become of it. Last year a number of new songs were written and there was a good deal of enthusiasm over the prospect of a new song book for Middlebury. Time went on however and nothing came of it.

Every college of any size has a song book. Why not Middlebury? To be sure Middlebury did have one but it was so long ago that scarcely anybody in college at present has ever seen a copy.

Every year Middlebury is growing, not only in number of students and buildings and in equipment, but the spirit of Middlebury is growing, the spirit of loyalty to our college. We want to know our college songs, we want to play them. The Freshmen ask "Where can we get copies of the college songs?" and how ashamed we feel when we must reply, "There are none." Nobody seems to feel responsible for this book and we should like to suggest that some college oganization take up the task and see it through. There is enough material now for a good book, but there is plenty of talent in college to produce more if necessary. Let us not see another Commencement approach without a new complete Middlebury Song Book.

The Fraternity Problem.

The following article which is taken from a speech delivered by Lloyd C. Douglas at the University of Michigan may seem at first sight rather untimely owing to the fact that pledge day has come and gone. On the contrary, we feel sure that the sound advice which it offers is most needed right now both for the benefit of those who are newly pledged, and those who received no bid, and perhaps most of all for the benefit of those who have been fraternity men for some time.

It often happens that some of the best material is overlooked the first year by all the fraternities, and no one should feel that he is out of the game simply because a group of men failed to vote for him unanimously. If a man is made of the right stuff he is sure to prove himself eventually, and if he is bid into a fraternity later on, he may rest assured that he rightly earned the honor. On the other side of the question, it is highly unjust to look down on a neutral man simply because he is a neutral. Such an attitude is narrow and prevents one from acquiring the broad scope which every college man, above all others, should acquire. First of all we are MIDDLEBURY men, and the fraternity grouping should always be subordinated to that one idea. This is the true Middlebury spirit, and our success as a college will depend to a large extent on the earnestness with which we cherish and cultivate it.

"An invitation to join a fraternity originates in the organization; and any effort or apparent anxiety on your part to expose yourself to such an invitation is not only bad form, but highly useless.

"It is not absolutely essential to a successful university course that a student should be a fraternity member. Indeed, in many cases, it would have been very much better for a young man if he never heard of a fraternity. Whether a student should be advised to join a fraternity or not, depends. It depends on the student and the fraternity. There are students and students. There also are fraternities and fraternities. Merely because a big house has some cryptic symbols on the door does not mean that it is a wholesome place to live in or that the people who dwell there have any particular contribution to make to each other's lives.

"If some fraternity seems to be interested in you, don't let it go to your head. Maybe the attention is a compliment and maybe it isn't. It all depends, as I have indicated above. Seven chances out of nine, your name was sent to the fraternity by an alumnus in your home town. The fraternity is obliged to look you up, out of respect to the alumnus. Now, if you see anything in that to get excited over, you ought to be back in the Eighth Grade. Maybe you will fail to "get by." Don't bank on your election to membership. Don't talk to anybody about your prospects. If you receive a "bid," keep your feet on the ground. Don't stop speaking to people. They can't help it.

"And be prepared for the shock of your life. After having been caressed and ice-creamed and hauled about in state all over Ann Arbor and environs in somebody's father's borrowed car and taken out on calling expeditions to sorority houses—a bewildering program of entertainment and hospitality—you will have a small button inserted in your coat lapel; almost immediately after which you will be dropped like a hot biscuit and reduced to the ranks.

"Enjoy yourself, my friend, during these halcyon days of the rushing season. For a blissful week, you will be as one who is not a Freshman. After that, you will be as one who is a Freshman plus. Don't I know?

"Now, honestly, if you threaten to burst with self-appreciation over this honor that seems to be coming to you, reflect that hundreds of fellows, every way as acceptable as yourself, are passed, unnoticed, by fraternities because they lacked letters of recommendation from alumni at home.

"Don't be snobbish or overbearing in your attitude toward other students who do not belong to fraternities. Inquire carefully about the local and national standing of your fraternity before you begin to blow about it. Maybe it's only a highpriced boarding-club with a mortgage on the house and some Greek letters on the dishes.

"If you are not asked to be a member of a fraternity, don't be sore. Above all, don't get any "anti-frat" notions into your head. There are other less objectionable forms of suicide, if you really wish to dispose of yourself. Don't develop ambitions to organize another club or fraternity. We have quite enough. If you have the fraternity bee in your bonnet and cannot find peace until you are absorbed in one, go out for some form of athletics; make a name for yourself; do something to get into the limelight. Have a care, however, what you do. They have a calaboose in this town.

"Very seriously, now, many young men and women have had their whole college career spoiled, either by getting into the wrong fraternities where they never felt at home; or by failing to receive a "bid" into a fraternity, thereby becoming embittered. Don't make a mistake here. This is a serious matter. You are no more justified in joining a fraternity just for the sake of being a 'fraternity man" than you would be safe in marrying just anybody to enjoy the distinction of being a "husband." Look 'em over. It is an important consideration—the fraternity problem."

Middlebury Meets Defeat at Springfield.

The score of Saturday's game with Springfield Y. M. C. A. College is not of the most encouraging sort but nevertheless not as bad as it sounds. Without attempting to present an alibi, the breaks certainly were against us. After a tedious forenoon our men entered the game with lots of fight, only to find there was no timekeeper, and to play on and on until twenty-five minutes had elapsed before time was called for the first quarter, And in that time Springfield only succeeded in putting over one touchdown. They put over another in both the second and third quarters and ended strong with two touchdowns on the last quarter, making the final score 32-0.

Springfield has a fine team, one that it will be well to watch throughout the rest of the season. Aside from their team work they had one man who shone especially, a negro, who, according to our men, deserves a place on the All-American. Bowers was pretty badly smashed up and had to stay in Springfield a few days for treatment, while Butterfield came home on crutches, nursing a badly sprained ankle. Lang and Good are mentioned as doing the best work for Middlebury, while Butterfield showed up well for his first game.

This week comes the game with Stevens Institute at Hoboken, N. J. Last year's game was played to a 0-0 tie and in spite of Saturday's reversal our coaches and our team are looking forward to a victory. It only remains for the student body to keep from crabbing and to support our men as they deserve.

Junior Class Meeting.

The Junior class held a meeting Tuesday evening, October 3, to elect officers for the insuing year. The following were chosen: Kenneth Gorham, president; Louise Norris, vice-president; Louise Reynold, secretary; and James Cardell, treasurer. Gorham, after taking the chair, suggested some ways by which the spirit of the class might be improved. He advocated frequent class meetings for this purpose. He established a new precedent in conducting class meetings by the introduction of cheering and college songs. The meeting adjourned after hearty cheering led by Good and Everitt, with Miss Dean at the piano. This innovation in the conducting of class meetings not only tends to inspire class spirit but also aids greatly in producing a real Middlebury spirit as it is practically the only occassion at which both sides of the college meet to cheer and sing. The idea seemed to meet with the hearty approval of all and doubtless will be carried out in all the meetings of the class in the future.

A Growing Reputation.

The following clipping was taken from Bob Dunbar's column of the Boston Journal for October 3, 1916. It will serve to justify those of us who hold like views of the football situation: "Middlebury College has made a more rapid advance in football of late years than any college of its size. Saturday's 6 to 0 victory over Union was an exceedingly creditable performance."

Freshman addresses a Junior coming from chapel—"Do you room there?"

"Yes, I have a fine room in the tower."

'The view must be great; I'll come up and see you some day."

MIDDLEBURY DEFEATS UNION 6-0.

Thomas then took Brewster's place for Middlebury. Moynihan made three yards for Union and under her own goal posts came the crucial test for Middlebury. In spite of a penalty for off side play the line held like a stone wall almost on our goal line, Union making but two yards in four downs. Middlebury took the ball and Randall made three yards, and Parker two. Just as the half was ending Pollard was forced to kick.

At the opening of the second half Bresnahan took Parker's place at quarter. Lynch kicked off to Rosecrans, who ran the ball back twenty yards, but on the next play Union lost five yards on a bad pass. Rosecrans made two yards, Roof two, and then Rosecrans kicked to Pollard who could only make two yards before he was tackled. Randall gained first four yards and then two and was followed by Pollard with four. Travers now went in for Roof, who was hurt. Middlebury then lost seven yards, but Pollard came back on the next play with an eighteen yard run. Randall made two yards and Bresnahan followed with eight on an end run, giving Middlebury first down. Pollard failed to gain on the next play, Kandall made two yards, a forward pass and a fake play both failed, and it was Union's ball. Mudge immediately made first down by a twelve yard run. On the next play Middlebury was off side and, then Mudge and Moynihan gained seven and three yards respectively. Mudge then lost two yards and Moynihan was hurt, time being taken out. A forward pass by Union was incomplete, and a fumble kept the ball in the same place. Rosecrans tried a drop kick which failed and the ball was now in Middlebury's possession on her twenty yard line. Randall made first down for Middlebury by two gains of five and six yards each. An end run with Pollard carrying the ball was tried but no gain resulted.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Roof went in again in place of Travers. Pollard made eight yards on a cross buck and Randall made three yards more, giving Middlebury another first down. Middlebury failed to gain on the next play and Powell was sent In for Hunley. Whitney gained a yard, Randall four, and then Pollard punted fifty yards, the ball crossing Union's goal line. It was now Union's ball on her own twenty yard line. Moynihan gained four yards, but no gain resulted in the next play. Mudge gained eight yards, giving Union first down. Roof then carried the ball five yards, Rosecrans three, and Mudge nine, making another first down for Union. After several more substantial gains Myrick went in for Thomas. Union continued to advance and Bowers replaced Whitney. The tide was not turned until Middlebury gained the ball on a fumble. Randall could not gain and Middlebury was penalized for delaying the game. Pollard made six yards on a cross buck and Bowers followed with seven. Th game ended with the ball in Middlebury's possession on her own fifteen yard line.

Student Government Meeting.

The first fall meeting of the Student Government Association was held on September 29th. The constitutions and by-laws were read by the President and Vice-president for the benefit of the new students and at the close of the meeting they were given opportunity to join the association. Three delegates besides the President were chosen to attend the Inter-Collegiate Student Government convention to be held at Mt. Holyoke in November. They were: Helen Simms, Lucy Smith and Ruth Hesselgrave. It was announced that hereafter the fine for non-attendance at meetings would be raised to twenty-five cents. The meeting was made more impressive by the caps and gowns worn by the presiding officers.

Middlebury Second Team 6, Goddard Seminary 0.

The second team journeyed by auto to Barre Saturday and took a fall out of the fast Goddard Seminary football team by a score of 6-0. It was a good game throughout and our men won on their merits entirely. They were somewhat handicapped in not having played together before, but nevertheless worked in unison remarkably well. In the line Canty was easily the star of the game, while Aines and Brigham held down the end positions very creditably. In the backfield Brickett and Ross were conspicuous, the latter making a drop kick from the thirty-five yard line, which however was disputed and not allowed. Four times did our men carry the ball to the five yard line but the only time they shoved it across was early in the first quarter. The fifty-five yards received in penalties was the only thing which kept our men from piling up a larger score.

The trip was made under the direction of Coach Murch, Capt. Aldrich and Asst. Mgr. Gorham, the party coming home by way of Burlington. This week the team meets the strong St. Peter's team on their own grounds at Rutland, and a royal contest is sure to take place. A week from Saturday the Goddard Seminary team comes here for the return game. A little practice together will put the team into great shape and the college is looking to them to come through the season with a clean record of wins.

The Freshman Rules.

The freshman rules are always a source of interest and usually of much amusement to those who have ceased to be subject to them. This is perhaps especially true in the case of the alumni and it is for their benefit particularly that we are printing them just as they appear on the big green placard, the selling price of which depends largely on the seller and also on the man who feels it incumbered upon him to buy.

1. Wear the regulation cap or class toque first appearing at chapel, and on every other occasion while in town, Sundays excepted, until notified by the Rules Committee. The cap shall be olive green with a pink button one and one-half inches in diameter.
2. Wear plain white string ties with socks of like color for the first two weeks.
3. Do not wear corduroy or khaki pants.
4. Leave at home all preparatory school letters or numerals.
5. Run to all college recitations during the first week of the college year. Enter the old Chapel at all times thru the lower door and do not congregate or sit on the new Chapel steps.
6. Must not smoke on campus or street, but must be able to furnish matches to upper classmen at all times.
7. Keep all "M" and numeral pipes out of your unclean faces.
8. Walks were made for you to walk on.
9. Salute the faculty and upper classmen and give them preference at all places of assemblage. Step lively.
20. Assist all managers and assistant managers and meet all athletic teams.
11. All freshmen must report at Porter Field every Tuesday and Thursday at 4:00 p. m. for cheer practice.
12. Do not appear at athletic contests with co-eds during the first semester, nor with a member of the fair sex for the first two weeks.

Kaleidoscope Office.

The authorities have granted the use of a room in North Painter Hall to the Kaleidoscope Board for an office. It is a step in the right direction and by better and more diligent work the Board hopes to show its appreciation. Weekly meetings are being held and with the splendid support which the college is offering, the Board hopes to be able to present a creditable book. Owing to the failure of the Misses Sibley and Henderson to return to college, the Misses Smith and Kendall have been appointed Associate Editors. At the class meeting Tuesday evening the matter of Junior Pictures was discussed and it was voted that as many as possible should have their pictures for the Kaleidoscope taken at once, aiding both the photographers and the Kaleidoscope Board.

Mr. Hathaway is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and has also studied at Harvard and at Berlin. He has charge of the chapel choir and also plays the new organ.

In the department of Geology, Dr. Wilbur G. Foye succeeds Mr. Lyford. Dr. Foye is a graduate of Colby College and Harvard University. His past experience includes a personal study of coral reefs, and four years of teaching.

Mr. Roy C. Phillips replaces Mr. Wade as instructor in Spanish. He holds degrees from Brown and Harvard.

As the organ of the student body, the CAMPUS welcomes the new instructors into the work and society of Middlebury College.

Houseparty at Prof. Lambert's.

Prof. and Mrs. Lambert entertained the members of Prof. Lambert's biology classes at a houseparty Wednesday evening, October 4. Prof. Lambert read the account of a canoe trip in the region of the Kennebec River, a narrative in which humorous anecdotes were delightfully mingled with more serious musings on the lure of the forest, lake and stream. Incidentally, Prof. Lambert showed that he could speak in the language of the poet as well as the jargon of the laboratory. The hearty thanks of the guests are due to the host and hostess who entertained them so hospitably.

Assists Teachers in Obtaining Positions

We receive calls for wide-awake and progressive teachers from every State in the Union. and we want more such teachers upon our lists.

We believe no agency in the country has done more for its clients or secured positions for a larger proportion of them. For several years we have had more positions than candidates, and we can certainly be of service to college graduates who wish to teach and WHO ARE QUALIFIED TO DO GOOD WORK.
